DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 38-48 and 61-62, drawn to nucleic acid segments for identifying all the CCR5 haplotype groups set forth in claim 38.

It is noted that group 1 contains claims directed to a set for detecting each specified allele of all haplogroups as well as claims directed to a single segment for detecting the specific HHD haplogroup (claim 61). Should claims be amended or newly presented in the future, directed to single segments for detecting additional distinct haplogroups or claims directed to nucleic acids comprising or capable of detecting a single allele or different combinations of nucleic acids directed to multiple alleles, such claims will be subject to further restriction.

Group 2, claim(s) 49-60, drawn to methods of identifying the CCR5 haplotype group of a human subject.

2. The inventions listed as Groups 1 and 2 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Brennan (US Patent 5,474,796) teaches an array of all possible 10mer nucleic acids which anticipates the set of nucleic acids in claim 38. Accordingly, the groups lack a special technical feature over the prior art. The claims are patentably distinct as the products of group 1 encompass nucleic acids which can also be used to encode peptides which is not required to practice the method of group 2. The search required for groups 1 and 2 is not coextensive, as art relating structurally to the nucleic acids of group 1 would not necessarily provide any information regarding haplotyping CCR5, while references relating to an association between CCR5 and HIV would not necessarily provide descriptive information regarding a set of nucleic acids for haplotyping.

3. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1634

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
